buzz word heard

Hello from Sacramento.

Hi from Savannah

Our principal did a book study with some of us on growth mindset

New to it , yes have heard the buzz word a lot!

Familiar and used some last year. Planning to teach more this year

Heard Jo Boaler speak and want to apply in classroom

I'm a big growth mindset believer!!!

I just took an online course in which they discussed growth mindset

I am just hearing about growth mindset now. No background with it.

Our school has been teaching our students about growth mindset for a few years. :-)

I teach Growth Mindset the first week of school and have a bulletin board highlighting GM.

buzz word

Our counselor taught it last year, and I used some journals as a follow up.

Familiar with it and using it in the classroom. Looking to do it more with my students Newbie!

I am using it for me as an educator, but I am going to use this for my 8th graders this year.

Hello from Nashville, AR!

It was a big push with my board this past school year. They applied it more to math, but in my classroom I

I joined Jo Boaler's Math Mindsets course! She is fabulous!

I know the term, but haven't used it yet

I taught some about Growth Mindset at the beginning of the year last year, but need to do a better job of

I saw the name in the Really Good Stuff catalog

I know about growth mindset,, but willing to know more; like to learn more about everything education.

I started teaching it with my life skills high school students! It really turned their thinking around!

Yes i have used it - looking for more information

Loved using Class Dojo videos for growth mindset last year. Great explanations for kiddos!

Hi from Lisa in Soiothwest Wisconsin

I put up a Change you words, Change your Mindset board up in my room

Kay

I'll be woring with 5 elementary schools this yr and would love to introduce it to allo.

I don't have knowledge - I think?!?

Read Jo Boaler's Mathematical Mindsets

Yes, we used Class Dojo videos this past year. They are really awesome.

Reading Jo Boaler's book this summer on Math mindsets

Jo Boaler's website: <https://www.youcubed.org/>

want to learn more

I've heard about it and I'm trying to get into it next school year

We are beginning to use the Growth Mindset practices this year. This will be our first year. We conducted a Mindsets in the Classroom book study last year in order to prepare..

I teach primary and found some wonderful picture books and videos that I used throughout the school year.

I taught it some last year and hope to integrate it more this year.

I have and I have seen many of her videos.

I had to process the book for my teachers

I have Ricci

Heard of it and want to read it.

I have read it.

I have three summers ago. We do "Mindset Monday" in first grade.

<https://mindsetonline.com/>

I haven't read it. The audio version sounds much easier for me at this point!

I've read it as well as Mary Ricci

Listening on audiobook currently

Carol's TED TALK was amazing!

Taught a couple of units of Growth Mindset last school year

I watched the replay

Love your webinars! Not a fan of webinar jam!

Again no experience

Yes, live webinar

that is awesome!!!

love all of the features of WebinarJam!!!

I'm thinking about doing webinars of my own

Carol Dweck's Ted Talk re Growth Mindset

I was here Monday!

Hi Laura

Good evening

a spinning circle means a bandwidth lag--hopefully it will come back for you

Hello

Hello everyone

I am super disappointed, but my school computer is restricted and not allowing me to view this webinar. I attended the 1st one, and will go home and watch the replay of this one. Will I be able to have access to the CEU

I love the Brain Bucks!!!

I just clicked on reconnect! I'm good now. Thanks! (:

Awesome!

I have Angela's materials. They are really nice!

you will have access to the entire webinar replay and the information about certificates and freebies

Hello from Delaware

Hello

I'm on an iPad, and I can use the chat.

Perfect Michelle! That's exactly the right thing to do if your video is lagging! Click on reconnect!

Can't wait to hear about the Brain Bucks

Question: Whole Brain Teaching, MI, and mindset. 7th grade sped math. Can't study them all before school

I'm in Angela Watson's group---great resources!

Thanks Peggy!

Getting ready to teach growth mindset this year!

I bought the Mega Bundle on Tuesday.

Can I still access the freebies if I have to leave early?

I'm looking forward to audio version. I have a long commute & love learning while I drive

Just got a new job teaching 5th and 6th grade at the Montessori Academy in Rochester City School District. Can't wait to get started with MI and Growth Mindset with them....

I LOVE Whole Brain Teaching!!

I love the power of yet!

she will provide the link to the Freebies at the end of the webinar so if you watch the replay you will be able to teaching 3/4 split class this year

5th grade self contained

Yet..... I've used it for a while..... Yet.....

I like your designating a day for Mindset, Michelle.

@Beth, agree of the power of yet! Also 5th self contained that fish jumping was cute

Anne Marie, our school is BIG on Growth Mindset! (:

5th grade Science/SS

I have with my staff

I often show small video clips of kids with some type of disability who have overcome and accomplish amazing tasks. This shows my class they can do anything they truly work for.

Love this!

I LOVE the power of Yet!

great idea Susan!

Love this, so true!

Same thing goes for teachers and administration. If you approach this as just "one more thing" your teachers

I love this message! #4

Use more real life or personal connection activities, so the students can see their strengths.

Ann - 5th grade science/social studies

I agree with this message!

Finally got logged in

Great book

totally agree

Great book!

I want to read that book!

I teach gifted students and I see this could be so valuable to them.

like giving out awards to EVERY kid?

Just FYI, In America parents ask, "How did you do in school today?" In Japan, parents ask, "Did you work hard in school today?" Major difference in teaching what is important in life.

If you watch the replay (link will come in an email) you'll be able to see the entire chat and click on the links should there be audio with the video?

Can you post a link to the video?

Technology is a blessing and a curse

Could we pull up the link? I have it just give a link to the video is there a link to share?

sounds like a plan!

its on Youtube

thanks Laura for your great videos they have been supporting me through my teaching experience.

I did not see the link.

You can watch the video later if you're having trouble with the link right now. Save it in your browser.

watching it now outstanding advice in this video!!

It's been posted in the chat many times. You aren't seeing it?

all done

Amazing!

great video!

GREAT video clip!!!!

done, it was very informative and I enjoyed listening to it

Great video!

Great video!

We watched that at a meeting last year. Very helpful

Totally agree with this!! Great!!

Very interesting

Loved the video! made a big impact on me finished. Praising efforts has gone much further with my students just as they said in the video.

wow, the way you praise a child can make or break them! I shared this on fb for my teacher and parent friends.

The HUGE impact made by such a little change

I just saw the link a minute ago. I'll watch later.

I've seen this before as part of PBIS training. Fits in so well with both PBIS and Growth Mindset!

Praising the effort is so important. This allows children to take risks and work hard.

How the different types of praise affected the kids performance. It reminded me of the old Blue eyes/brown disprove opinion for smart praised kids--- specific praise is very important you can't focus on how "smart" a kid is. Not all kids achieve the same goals. you need to look at their effort and found valuable can't wait to share this with the other counselors in my cohort what a difference careful words can make!

effort is something all children can achieve kids work harder when they are being praised about their effort as opposed to their intelligence

Kindly send me link

praising effort gives students the want to work harder

The percentage difference in the end results after the varied praise was quite interesting. Thanks

I think it goes back also to how eager to please kids are. Praising their effort encourages them to keep working Praising effort and stamina is always more impactful!

I don't think i realized there was a difference in praise! Clearly there is!

Praise effort

The way that praise is used determines the amount of interest or effort a student will give. I am looking into i am shocked at how negative the "smart" comments affected the test results.

Praise effort and process, not intelligence and abilities.

I still don't hear it, but I had no trouble listening to it in the link.

I can't believe it! I keep telling my 4 year old grandson how smart he is. I'll have to tell him how great his effort is.

That was an awesome webinar also. Boalers book is great

It's hoe we SEE things. We need to develop multiple perspectives.

Fascinating book by Jo Boaler!

How*

This journal is amazing:)

Just bought this!!

Is the video available in other languages?

I have this!! :) and am in the club!!1

Awesome

You have someone sitting in the room with an inner dialogue saying this isn't easy, what's wrong with me?

I want to share this with my parents but I can't get back to the link. Can you share it again?

That's awesome, i love Angela's stuff!

I'm in her club. I'm going to use this before March!

I have this packet from Angela, too!

the link to the video we watched is also on the freebies page which you will get at the end of the webinar

Awesome resource!

I am going to show my students all the everyday items that were invented by mistake.

I need to really be mindful about how I communicate.

Great idea, Karen!

I read and discuss the book "The Most Magnificent Thing" to my students.

those are great quotes!

I just ordered that book among other Kimberly definitely need those quotes in my room!

"Fall 9 times, get up 10"

Reminds me of that old song pick yourself up and start all over again.

I am really excited with all of these great ideas! Looking forward to trying them,. Thank you. :)

I think there's a song from the movie Trolls about falling down and getting back up again.

Kimberly great book idea

it would be great to have the kids write some of their own! love that idea!

These resources look amazing. Thank you!

I like the book "Your Fantastic Elastic Brain" - I do a unit on the brain at the beginning of the year

Thanks, Kathi.

Rocio, I use that book too. The students love it!

Sounds awesome!

I like t use the book "Giraffes Can't Dance" and we talk about the power of yet

there are some great growth mindset pins on Pinterest

Me too, Rachel!

My favorite book to start the year, Rachel!!

Rachel---HAVE THAT BOOK!

Not for me Kathi.

Adrian, use books as your basis and then go from there! :)

Let me try it again.

anyone familiar with the books by Julia Cook?

Ish is a really great book. I forgot about that one!

I purchased a pack of GM posters from TpT and I reduced them and make a pak out of them that I punched a hole in and put on a ring. Then the kids choose one each week of the year and they say it out loud to themselves It worked this time. Weird!

I love the books from Julia Cook...great for teaching pro-social behaviors!

Thanks for the great chat. I was unable to view the webinar but could at least read and participate in the chat and receive some great links. Can't wait to get home and replay the Webinar.

So many STEAM activities that can foster all sorts of creative uses with minds love brain bucks !

I've done this paper folding activity...my 7th graders loved it! Used it as an intro to GM unit

Previously I had touched an alligator with two fingers. This summer I held a 2/1/2 foot alligator. I feel so proud of myself for facing my fear and doing this. I will be using my picture of this as part of my circle map to I love the phrase "productive struggle," I am going to use that in my 5th grade classroom this year

We had a large brain on the classroom wall. When a student worked hard to meet a challenged, he or she wrote his/her name on a neuron. The neuron was then added to the large brain.

Food for thought: mastery vs. progress

@ Robin Waage, there is a lot of reading about productive struggle.

Love the name on the neuron!!

Kimberly- love this idea of big brain visualisation

Terrri~~~ the brag tags I use does have a perseverance one....

Love that brain visual. Demonstrates how process and progress comes together to form the big picture.
